

What I Am Thankful For

The possession I am most thankful for is my AirPods. I would die without my airpods. I use them daily for at least five hours a day when I'm cleaning, playing a sport, doing my homework, or just chilling. I use them the most when I'm talking to my friend Jackson. He uses his airpods, as well. I have had three pairs over the last two years because they keep breaking or I lose them. They are my best non-human friends. The importance of a little white case and two earbuds is spectacular to me. I can put them in my ears and just tune everything out, especially my brothers. My airpods go everywhere with me. I don't know what I would do without them.
