

My Grandma Suzi

I am thankful for my Grandma Suzi. The first reason why I love my grandma so much is because every Easter we all meet up at my grandma's. We always eat her amazing food and play bingo! Another reason why I am thankful for my grandmother is that she always sends me cards whenever we haven't talked in a while because she lives about 2 hours away. She always puts different colorful stamps on them. The last way I love and am grateful for my grandma Suzi is how she always calls me and tries to make plans with the family, and she really helps us all come together. These are some of the many reasons why I, and anyone else who meets her, thinks she is an amazing person who brings happiness and joy to everyone around her.
