

Jude's Quality Essay

Hello, my name is Jude. I'm currently in sixth grade. I am good at math and I like to doodle because it helps me think, focus, and imagine. Some hobbies I have are drawing, building with legos, playing video games and playing different role play games with my friends.

One trait I have is being creative. I show this trait by doodling and building with legos. I also show this trait by building creative strategies in video games. Being creative is something I am thankful for because it gives me new ideas everyday. This trait will help me in the future by giving me ideas for future jobs, things I need and what I should do.

Another trait I have is smart, because I am smart. I will explain this trait, I am smart because I'm good at math, I can think quickly, and I'm good at strategy games. I'm smart because I am good at remembering things on the current topic. Math has also helped me gain the ability to think two things at once! I'm thankful for this trait because it gives me intelligence, quick thinking and the ability to think two things at once! (Like I said: I don't really think two things at once.)

The last trait is innovative which works with both my creativity and smartness. It works with both because it uses my creativity to make do with what I had. It will use my intelligence to figure out what I will do. I'm thankful for this trait because this trait puts the other traits to a great use. This trait will improve over time because the more I use it, the more it will develop.

This shall be the conclusion of my traits essay. The traits I told you about earlier are creative, smart and innovative. I'm thankful for these traits because I will need them to live my life. I will use them to get what I need. I can and will improve these traits so I can use them for different situations. There is always room for improvement in everyone, in different ways. I will become a better person because I have a growth mindset.
