

Savannah's Quality Essay

Hi, my name is Savannah O'Dell. I live in the Adirondacks. One of my favorite things to do in the summer is go fishing on Lake Champlain. One more thing I like to do is go swimming and have picnics on the beach. Some traits I am thankful for are that I am bold, talented and funny.

One of my traits is that I am bold. Bold means to stand out and not be like other people. I am bold in the way I stand out in my choice of clothes. I am thankful for being bold. It helps me be seen. In the future more people may like me because I am bold.

One of my other traits is that I am talented. Talented means to be good at something or spend a lot of time on something. One way I show I am talented is I am really good at drawing. I am thankful because in the future I want to be an architect. Drawing is important for this job.

One more of my traits is that I am funny. When you are funny you make people laugh. I make people laugh When I tell them a "knock knock" joke or a "why did the chicken cross the road" joke. I am thankful for being funny because in the future I can make people laugh and such. This will make me and other people feel good.

People tell me I have a lot of great qualities. I have heard that I am bold, talented and funny. I can become more talented by practicing drawing. I can become more bold by doing more stuff and challenging myself. I can also become more funny by telling more jokes and making people laugh.
