Things That I am Thankful for this Year.

by Naomi Nahari

Thanksgiving started with the pilgrims many years ago and we still have many things that we are thankful for. On Thanksgiving I have a meal with my cousins, eat turkey and dessert and play a game like Monopoly. Some of the things I'm thankful for is my Jewish identity, my family and basic needs. That is how my family celebrates Thanksgiving.

One thing I am thankful for is my Jewish identity because we have Shabbat which is helpful for me because I have time to spend with my family and have fun. We can talk about our problems and try to solve them. I also have time to relax and practice for boxing. My sister helps me exercise. That is why grandma's house is a lot of fun. I love my Jewish identity.

Another thing I am thankful for is my family. My dad shows me how to cook eggs and I know how to make eggs by myself. I use a special ingredient.

that is a lot of salt and black pepper. It's great if you like a lot of flavor.

My mom is very helpful. She does homework with me and if I don't know the answer instead of working on it for 10 minutes. She gives me some tips. One thing I like about my sisters is they give the family a little bit of craziness. I am not bored when I'm with them. They also stand up for me if a friend is mean. They support me ♡

I am also thankful that my basic needs are met. I can move and I have energy. I have a house for shelter that helps me be safe. Imagine if I had no home to live in and there was thunder. I'm also thankful that I have food and water which we need to survive and stay hydrated.

These are all the important things I am thankful for this year as I enjoy the holidays
