

If I had to choose
One quality
About myself that I
Was most grateful for,
I might choose
My humor:
My ability to make others smile
And laugh.
Or perhaps
My kindness:
How I am able to be nice to
Those who don't reciprocate my kindness.
But I think
If I had to choose one quality
I would choose my ability to
Find beauty in everything.
Finding beauty in the world around me
Has led me to appreciate everything
For the way it is
And still find it beautiful.
I am thankful for the fact
That I can live my life
Admiring the world around me
And those in it.

- Beauty is subjective, and I am thankful for my ability to choose to see beauty in everything.
