

Hi I'm Toby Quaid. I'm from the Adirondacks. I live in Lewis, New York. I like carving, mechanics and games. I'm Thankful for being thoughtful, hilarious and light hearted. These traits will help me in the future.

One quality to describe me is hilarious. People say I'm funny. I make people laugh a lot. I've made my friends laugh in a game before. I'm thankful for it because I like making people happy. This can help me in the future cheering up someone who is sad. People will probably want to be around me if I lighten the mood with a joke.

Another quality to describe me is thoughtful. People say I help them a lot. I share stuff and help people. I gave my friend my bagel when he was hungry. My friends say I help them with assignments too. I'm thankful because I like helping my friends and they like it too. This can help me in the future because people will like me in the future if I help them.

One last quality to describe me is light-hearted. I don't get mad much. I talked to my friend because he was crying to cheer him up. Other people say I'm a good person. I'm thankful because I like to make people feel better. This can help me in the future because people will want to be my friend if i make them feel better.

Those are just some qualities I'm thankful for. I am hilarious, thoughtful, and light-hearted too. All of these will help me in the future because people will want to be around me which will make me feel good. People will laugh when they see me (in a good way) . Thank you for reading my essay.
