

Hi, I'm Daisy Cushman. I'm from Elizabethtown, New York. I was born in Baltimore, Maryland. I like to play basketball, softball and soccer. Four qualities that I am thankful for are that I'm Athletic, thankful, thoughtful, and hardworking.

One quality that I am thankful for is how athletic I am. I think I'm athletic because of how many sports I play. I play softball, basketball, soccer, cheer, and field hockey (or I used to). I am thankful for it because when I was younger, I was really bad at a lot of those sports, but when I started to get older, I learned from my mistakes. Being athletic can help me in the future by helping me get into three or four varsity sports and that means I have to practice a lot. I will also probably be healthier as an adult.

The second quality I am thankful for is that I am thankful. When I don't get what I want, I always end up being happy with what I've got. I got a new art book and I was hoping for a stuffed animal or blanket. When I opened the present, it was an art book. I was a little happy because I was really into drawing at the time. I started to become a little more grateful and ended up filling the whole thing with drawings. One of my friends said that whatever I get I am thankful for it. I am thankful for this trait because I don't want to be someone that is ungrateful and mean. It could hurt someone's feelings.

The third quality that I am thankful for is that I am thoughtful. I think I am thoughtful because I always put others first. When my mom got hurt, I went out to help her instead of watching TV inside all day. Another one of my friends said I was thoughtful because I help people with challenges and put others first. I am thankful for this trait because helping someone instead of watching them sit hurting is what we should do. If they are, you could go help and be thoughtful. This could help me in the future because if someone needs help or needs something I could help.

The fourth quality that I am thankful for is that I am hard working. Asking questions is okay as long as you get the question after. After you try your best even through challenges, you will be a hard worker. I am thankful for this quality because being a hard worker means that you are trying your best on everything you do. It could help me in the future because when I get a job hard work and grit will be the key to success. My teacher says that everyday I work hard and have grit.

I'm really proud of these qualities because I worked really hard to get good qualities like these. They make me who I am. My qualities are hard working, thoughtful, thankful, and Athletic. These qualities will help me in life by getting me a job and be successful. Thank you for reading my essay.
