

Hi my name is Journey Heald. I am from Lewis, N.Y. I love playing with my guinea pig, playing outside and riding ATVs. I have three qualities that make me who I am. I am respectful, responsible, and kind. These qualities will help me in the future.

One quality I am thankful for is being respectful. I was at a craft fair once and this girl dropped bracelets all over the floor so I helped pick them up so nobody stepped on them. It made her and me happy. I also helped an old lady get out of the car. She was very grateful, which made me happy. I would like to be a police officer when I am older. This trait in the future will help me be a good person and not be disrespectful and be helpful.

Another quality I am thankful for is being kind. One time I picked up someone's phone and brought it to the counter where we checked out. When they came and got their phone back, they were very happy. Also, I picked up candy at a parade and gave it to a little boy. He was very happy and excited. This will help me in the future because you should always be kind even if they are mean back to you. I am thankful about this trait because it will help me be kind and a good person to others when I'm older .

The last quality I am thankful for is being responsible . I am responsible for feeding my guinea pig at night. He squeaks and jumps when he is hungry. Once I hear him squeak, I make sure he is fed. Also, when I wake up in the morning I make sure I have all my things like my chromebook and my homework. Being responsible will help me in the future. I will pick things up instead of being lazy.

Above I have listed all my best qualities. These are that I am respectful, kind and responsible . These qualities will help me when I become a police officer in the future. Thank you for taking the time to read my essay. Have a good thanksgiving.
