

Who I Am Thankful For

By, Cael Sullivan

I am grateful for my grandfather, Chuck Wygal. I am grateful for this certain person because,of how he is the most loving and caring person ever. He had also been in the service and fought for our protection in Voils me like crazy and he had took me on a trip to the state of Pennsylvania.

He has been doing this family with all the older cousins he had took me to a place called Indian Town Gap, where he had been stationed in Vietnam. Although he has done all of these military things he loves me like crazy and spoils me so much. After we went to IndianTown Gap we went to our hotel and had gotten settled and rested up for the next day. When we woke up the next day we went to a little town called Litiz Ville and we had learned all about the history of pretzels. While we were in Litiz Ville we bought some gifts for my mom and my little sister. Then we had traveled to the Strasburg Railroad Tracks where you can ride on the same tracks Abe Lincoln had rode on and you can learn about the countryside. After we had finished the train we had went to go sleep on a caboose together for a whole night! We had woken up and gone to an excellent diner then it was time to travel to the great town of Gettysburg and had on a tour of Gettysburg and the Civil War that happened there. We had went to our hotel, Hilton. The next day we were heading home , BUT we had been going to Hershey's Chocolate World. This had surprised me so much.

I love my grandpa so much and this is why I am thankful for him.
