

Isabella Lewis
November 17, 2016

Happy Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is the best holiday of them all, not Christmas, not Hanukkah. Sure you get presents on those days, but not on Thanksgiving. On this special day of celebration you get to gather around the table with family and friends, you even get to stuff your face with turkey, potatoes, and gravy until you pass out. On this day besides watching Charlie Brown Thanksgiving you remember what you are thankful for, friends and family. I am most thankful for my wonderful mom, dad, and brother and every one of my cousins. I am thankful that in two months I will have another new cousin. My family loves and supports me, I am so lucky and happy to have them. When my family gets annoying I still have my loving friends to be with. All my amazing friends care for me in moments of need. I love how my friends are always funny and filled with joy.

I am thankful for all the love I have from my friends and family. HAPPY
THANKSGIVING!

