

What Am I Thankful For?

I am thankful for a numerous number of things. One thing is to be in the honors class mainly because I believed that I will never be here in a million years! We are all thankful but, we might fail to realize that because it's natural to us. Such as, having a loving family, having a roof over your head,(will be explain more in depth later) being able to almost make it to high school! Who wouldn't be excited? And those are just a little bit of what i'm thankful for. Now I would like to know? What are you thankful for?

I am thankful for having a supportive,loving and dependable family because they helped me get shaped into the amazing young woman I am today. Im also thankful for having food in my stomach whenever I please, being able not to live in the streets, and also having friends whenever I need them. Whenever I need someone to talk to they're there. Whenever, I have to partner with someone they're there. I just want to say thank you and I couldn't ask for more funny and amazing people like my friends.

I am thankful for having cable to watch television, having wi-fi to do everything else and being able to be in this amazing position in my school. People would die to be in my class and to do some of the things, I am thankful enough to be doing. I'm also thankful for almost making it to highschool without getting left back. I'm also thankful that I let go of all the people that wished me negativity. If I was to listen to other people said and took it to consideration, I would not be as hard working and/or ambitious as I am today.

The list may never end if I keep going but I just want to say THANK YOU from the bottom of my heart. To all the teachers that believe in me and to all the people that wished me the worse. I just want to say thank you because without them I would not be as educated as I am today. This is just a few of many things that I'm thankful for. Now think and realize....what are you thankful for?
