

Outside of school in my life, I am thankful for many things.
The one thing I am extremely grateful for and will always cherish is my family. No matter what tragedy occurs, I can count on my family to be there, and I love that feeling. At these holiday times, family can be taken for granted by many people, but that is by far the last thing for me to do. Looking at the tragic yet beautiful world around me, a harsh reality to see all the lonesome people out there. I know I will always have a family for me, whether it is my mom, dad, aunts and cousins, or my graciously extended family of friends. To me, my family is and will always be what I am most thankful for in my whole life. One thing I am thankful for in life is my house or shelter.
My house might not be the biggest or the cleanest house, but it is still my favorite place to live. It is a great place to live. A shelter is something that everyone needs in or their life. Where they could have fun with something to go home to after they are done at work their family, friends and neighbors. If someone did not have a home to live in,
I think that it would be terrible. Not being able to come home and lie down in there own bed or sit next to the nice warm fire in their house. Instead they would have to find a

Ronella
Cayenne

Ronella / 824

was determined to make lifelong friends, and I did just that. I minded freshman entering a brand-new world, high school, I is to form a bond with special teachers. As a scared and frail faculty and students. Now as a senior, I realize how important it school, I really appreciate the close-knit relationship between the is the community of Science And Medicine has become. At A school related thing for which I am thankful for mental activities like school.

such as sports or in or in water. Things that help me perform my best in physical things home such as food and long without food and water. I am glad that I have things in my world can survive for very however do not get that kind of luxury. No one anywhere in the dinner. Some people my body in shape. I get food and drink for breakfast, lunch and and enough drinks to keep everyday. I get enough food daily to keep me going on my work drink that I get to have Another thing that I am thankful for in my life is the food and different home every night. Where they could sleep different home every also made strong and unbreakable bonds with several teachers and administrators in who I know my trust and word is sacred.

At school, our bond of friendship and love is strengthened by the presence of faith in our community. I witness many of my friends who done to go to , and their friendships and relationships at other schools. Without a strong background and common respect and awe in iviger.