What am I thankful for.....

I am thankful for my family who adopted me into their Godly home. They shower me with love and give a wonderful life. I am thankful for gifts that keep on getting and giving. I am thankful for my education because most people thinks I don't deserve it do to skin color and gender. I am thankful for my gender and skin color because it represents many things. I am thankful for how far I have come because in June 2017 I will be in a white cap and gown my ancestor's couldn't do what am doing because of their color I will make them proud. They fought for what I am doing and also what am I going to do 18 years or right after college. I am thankful for my genes because I am a wonderful person. I am thankful for a working brain and body because most people aren't lucky. I am thankful for my 5 senses because most can't even have one sense. I am thankful for being thankful of my past, present and future because most people aren't as imaginative as I am. I am thankful for my creativity because I am unique as a melody. Now I can go on for what I am thankful for but that mean writing a 305 pages by the time I am done I will be in unknown place just to mention I am 13 years and when I am 20 I will the first women and black president.
