

What I am Thankful For During Thanksgiving

During Thanksgiving I am there are many things I am grateful for. One of the things I am grateful for is A loving family. That might sound weird but if you think about it not everyone has a loving family, as a matter of fact some people don't even have a family. I am also very grateful for food and clean water because not everybody has food and water. But most of all I am extremely grateful for being able to enjoy a nice dinner with my family. I am grateful for that because that is just a special thing to me because when I am older I will most likely not be able to do that with the same people. This is what I am grateful for during Thanksgiving.
