

There are many things I am thankful and grateful for and play a big role in my life, such as, my education, my health, my guinea pig, and my family. There are many different reasons why I love each and every one of the things I am thankful for but the biggest reason is that they all make happy.

First is my guinea pig, who is the most cuddly, joyful, and chubbiest creature on the whole plant. When I'm feeling down or had a bad day at school, she will always find a way to cheer me up!

My education and health is very important to me in many ways. First off without the education I have today, I really wouldn't be as smart as I am now without my wonderful teachers Mr. Andersen and Mr. Chin! With this good education that I have, one day I want to go to Harvard. Also without my health I would not be able to do the things I do today, such as, gymnastics, soccer, dance, and running and play outside. My health and my education play a huge role in what I am thankful for!

Lastly, and most importantly my family. My family has always been there for me when I need them and they care for me. They give me the love and support every day and also they give me food and shelter.

I'm thankful for all these things because they make me who I am today! I know that there are a lot of people that are less fortunate than me which makes me appreciate everything I have even more!
